Better Service For Kahului Is Chamber Demand

Later Departure Of Wednesday Night Steamer and Unloading of Freight On Tuesday Morning Sought

In connection with the efforts of the Maui Chamber of Commerce to secure improved service for Kahului when the new inter-island steamer is put into service and a revised schedule goes into effect the Secretary of the Chamber was instructed to supplement the efforts that had been made by the promotion committee of that body and take the subject up with the company further. The committee had learned that the new steamer will stop close in to Mala Wharf and that it is contemplated to have the Mauna Kea and the Kilauea alternate on the Kahului-Honolulu run.

At the last meeting of the Chamber the members appeared to consider it useless to seek further to get the Haleakala to Lahaina and the question of a later departure of the steamer from Kahului on Wednesday nights was brought up and favored. At the same time there was complaint as to the inadequate freight service to Central and East Maui by reason of failure to unload Monday night freight at Kahului until after the return of the steamer from Mahukona.

Letter Explains Conditions

In compliance with the Chamber's instruction the secretary has sent the following letter to the Inter-Island Company.

"At the last meeting of the Maui Chamber of Commerce the committee named to secure better steamship service for Maui reported that members had learned from you that the Haleakala would not come to Kahului Harbor but would land passengers and take mail three times a week each way from off Mala Wharf and that it is planned to have the Mauna Kea and Kilauea alternate on the present Kilauea run.

"Thereupon I was directed to take up with you by letter the subject of improved service to Kahului.

Lahaina Cared For

"The Maui Chamber of Commerce believes that with three times a week service to Honolulu by the splendid new steamer Haleakala, Lahaina will be adequately served and that it should be unnecessary for either the Mauna Kea or the Kilauea to stop off Lahaina on their runs from Kahului to Honolulu, especially as the Lahaina service is further supplemented by the Mauna Loa service or its equivalent.

"If the stop off Lahaina on Wednesday night be eliminated there seems to be no good reason why the sailing hour on Wednesday evening should not be 10 o'clock, as on Saturday evening, instead of eight. Such a change would work for the comfort and convenience of your East and Central Maui patrons. Hence the Chamber urges you to make that change in your proposed new schedule.

Freight Service Poor

"There is much complaint and often serious inconvenience is worked from the fact that the freight service between Honolulu and Kahului is not a great deal better, except as to perishables, than if it were only once a week. Freight shipped in Honolulu on Monday often does not reach Wailuku, Punene, Paia and Haiku until Thursday or Friday, being taken on to Mahukona and back to Kahului before being unloaded and then not being discharged until late Wednesday afternoon, often too late for the rail-road to transship until the next day. We are aware that you discourage freight shipments on Monday and urge that freight be shipped on the Friday night boat but often there is an urgent demand for goods or material that can only be met by an earlier shipment and a serious hardship is worked by such delays as to Monday shipments as are now common.

Remedy Suggested

"Maui Chamber of Commerce urges that you make an effort to unload freight on Tuesday morning at Kahului either by starting the discharge of freight immediately the steamer ties up alongside Kahului wharf (Claudine Wharf) or by laying there

Hot Trail Leads Up To Still In Hills, Thereby Hangs Tale

Page the followers of old John Barleycorn, and one, an erstwhile resident of Kahana, situated miles above Puukohli camp in the West Maui mountains, in particular.

Supposing you were a prohibition officer and somebody "tipped you off" to a big haul. And then supposing you had followed that tip—for hours in relentless chase, up and down, over hill and through dale, diving into masses of klawe, kicking your way through a morass of bamboo trees and guava that rose abruptly in your path in seeming defiance.

Then, supposing that you finally found your "tip," high up in the hills in a nook where never a shadow falls. You found an almost perfect still, six barrels in a hidden cellar, two of which were filled with mash, obviously the lair of a leader in the manufacture of the elusive "oke."

Would it make you sore, real dog-gone good an' mad, to learn the boot-legger, whose picture you had already framed in your mind with a horsehair rope around his neck a dangle from a mango tree, had many months since left for the dusky East, the land of his nativity?

And that's what happened to Prohibition Director E. C. S. Crabbe yesterday afternoon while on an investigation tour above Puukohli camp. The tip had come and Crabbe with police officer, "Bob" Lindsey took the trail in search of the wayward one. After just four hours of heartbreaking climbing, upward—ever upward, they reached the site of the reported illicit manufacture. Alack! Signs were there indeed, as plentiful as mark the zodiac, but the nimble purveyor of liquid ti root had some four months since departed to do honor to his chief The Mikado in Tokio.

Six barrels were found in a cleverly located dug out built in the side of the palm. Two, to be sure were filled with mash but long since decomposed by the elements. The still was still there with only the condenser missing.

And there it remains in ghoulish environment. Perhaps some day hence a queer little traveller may be seen plodding up the mountain side, be seen cautiously emerging from the forest-like thicket that surrounds the house of mystery. Perhaps, when with a furtive glance he scans his former home and steps forward again to enter—then he may walk squarely into the arms of—the law!

ACCEPT RESIGNATION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) HONOLULU, Dec. 14.—The congregation of the Christian Church yesterday accepted the resignation of Rev. Hugh White who has been pastor of the church for the past few years. White recently announced his resignation, caused by differences with the board of directors.

DUKE KAHANAMOKU WINS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) REDONDO BEACH, Cal., Dec. 14.—The Los Angeles Athletic Club team, including Duke Kahanamoku and Kahu, won the 220 yard relay, the first race on the program for the Redondo Swimming Club this season. The time was one minute, forty three and four fifths seconds.

a short time longer, sufficient to unload the freight for that port.

"The Chamber does not ask to have service to Hana curtailed but on the contrary would like to see it increased. However, if you will act upon the suggestion to eliminate the stop at Lahaina on Wednesday night and depart from Kahului that night at ten, it would seem that such an arrangement might permit of two hours later departure from Kahului for the Hana-Mahukona run and the unloading of the freight on Tuesday morning instead of Wednesday afternoon. Such two hour delay would mean only that much later on the steamers return to Kahului on Wednesday afternoon. On arrival it would be unnecessary to load freight as now has to be done and she could proceed at once with loading.

"If you can advise me on this subject before January 11, I shall be able to present the reply to the annual meeting of our body which is to be held that night."

$250,000 Cost Of Harbor At Lanai

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 13.—"Dry-dock" Smith sailed from this city today aboard the Matson liner Maui to Honolulu, preparatory to beginning construction work on a harbor at Lanai for the Hawaiian Pineapple Company.

Smith built the Pearl Harbor dry-dock and was engaged by James Dole when the latter was on the mainland. Estimated cost of the harbor will be $250,000.

Charley McCarthy To Come Home Next July

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) HONOLULU, Dec. 14.—Charles J. McCarthy has notified the Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu that he will resign as its representative in Washington when his contract expires on June 30, next.

The directors of the Chamber took no action relative to a successor but laid the letter on the table to be taken up at their January meeting.

Homecomers who had seen Charley McCarthy in Washington have brought back reports that he did not seem thoroughly satisfied there and was anxious to return to the Islands. In political circles the return of the former governor is considered to be of possibly major political importance and to make him a strong possibility for the Democratic nomination for mayor of Honolulu.

LEGION CONGRESS PROGRAM

New Church Is Being Built For Lower Paia Worshipers

A new and commodious church building is being erected at lower Paia by the Hawaiian Protestant church congregation there. The new building when completed will cost something over $5500.00. The building is 36 X 70 over all and follows the lines of the Christopher Wren style of church architecture. It will be completed early in the new year and church plans to have it ready for the meeting of the Island Association of churches which they are to entertain in the coming March.

Keller Charges Appear Weak Is Volstead's View

Gompers Attacks Appointment Of Burns As Investigator But Johnson Testifies Character And Ability

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Chairman Volstead of the house judiciary committee before which the Daugherty charges hearings are in progress said this morning that judging by the character of the testimony offered thus far he did not believe it was possible for Keller to "make anything out of his case."

Senator Johnson of California as a witness testified to the good character and the ability of Burns employed as investigator by the attorney general's department.

Yesterday Samuel Gompers had testified before the committee that he protested to Daugherty in 1921 against the appointment of W. J. Burns as chief of the bureau of investigation in the department of justice. He said he told Daugherty that such appointment would bring discredit upon his department and upon the United States.

Maui's Recent Fair Featured In Honiron

Maui's last county fair is featured in the November issue of "Honiron" the publication of the Honolulu Iron Co., a copy of which was received yesterday and nearly half of the magazine is devoted to it. The article is well written and summarizes many of the good things of the fair in a comparatively small space. The illustrations are especially good.

Honiron's frontispiece is a reproduction of Mrs. Frank F. Baldwin riding Pink Lady. On another page is a group of horses showing India with Armin von Tempelky in the saddle. Harold Rice's Peter Post, H. C. & S. Company's Waima and Bert Gibb's Major Pick.

Grove Ranch's bull, "Knight C. B." and steer "Almahou" are shown on another page and opposite them two fine Kananolu Ranch porkers (which were not shown as there was no pig display this year).

C. C. Campbell is seen hobnobbing with Ben Corbett of the Jack Burroughs outfit and there are several pictures that were snapped of the bucking horses and steers in action.

Turkey To Join League Nations Ismet Announces

Powers Interpret His Statement To Mean That Minorities Will Secure Protection Demanded

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) LAUSANNE, Dec. 14.—Ismet Pasha announced to the conference this morning that Turkey will join the League of Nations as soon as peace is signed at Lausanne.

This is interpreted to mean that Turkey will accept the League's supervision of the Christian minorities in Turkey.

Ismet said that Turkey will give the minorities the same treatment as is provided for minorities of other countries in treaties between the various European nations. He said, also, that amnesty would be granted to political prisoners but refused to establish a separate home territory for the Armenians.

Yesterday Child, the American representative in Lausanne, had a long conference with Ismet Pasha and urged him on humane grounds to make liberal concessions for the protection of minorities remaining in Turkey. This morning's announcement may be a result of American advice.
